To Whom It May Concern:

I have known Rawand of Daily Painters for a number of years now and have only positive recollections of completed contracts and content clients in both the commercial and domestic markets.

My personal involvement as a small works builder with the majority of my contracts on the northern shore of Sydney allows me to interact with many people in the painting industry and I am pleased to enlighten you as to how satisfied I have been.

In my relatively frequent association with Daily Painters, I have found all staff to be courteous, helpful and thorough in all aspects of their work. If for whatever reason my clients or I are not one hundred percent happy with the finish provided, Rawand will without complaint rectify said defect.

Currently Daily Painters is at work on three jobs of mine and have been completely proficient in each. I trust my consistent employment of Daily Painters is proof enough of my absolute confidence in the ability of Rawand and his staff.

I am happy to recommend Daily Painters for all domestic and commercial contracts.
